Emotional Intelligence (EQ) for Law Enforcement

In Partnership with the Mountain View Police Department

Overview

What is EQ? EQ is a set of skills that can be improved. Those who are able to increase their EQ have a distinct advantage, both professionally and personally, in a number of important areas, including self-awareness, emotional management, decision-making, and relationship skills.

Why EQ for Law Enforcement? Because law enforcement personnel are exposed to countless stressful situations and this requires effective strategies on how to respond.

Presenters

Chief Charlie Celano, Tustin Police Department (ret)

Charlie Celano is a recently retired police chief and has 27 years of law enforcement experience, including over 18 years in supervisory, management and command level positions within the organization.
