ATTENTION: ALL UNITS

Situational Awareness

(U//FOUO) The Crime Prevention and Information Center (CPIC) is aware of numerous provocative postings encouraging violence and threatening actions to citizens and law enforcement officers throughout the country. Social media posts have advocated that persons arm themselves with spray guns filled with acids. On 30 May 2020, officers in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania received caustic burns from acids sprayed on them through spray guns and tossed balloons.¹

(U//FOUO) The CPIC is requesting that law enforcement officers be on the lookout for people carrying spray guns, water balloons, or spray bottles, gas cans and other vessels that can carry caustic or flammable substances. The CPIC further requests that retail establishments notify law enforcement if they observe unusually large purchases of any of the following:

1. Muriatic acid
2. Drain cleaners
3. Bleach
4. Hydroxyethylcellulose (paint thickener)
5. Asphalt or Liquid Tar
6. Lighter fluid

(U) The Centers for Disease Control recommends that individuals exposed to a suspected caustic or corrosive agent should remove clothing or articles exposed to the agent and should rinse with room temperature water for at least 20 minutes while seeking medical attention.
