Subject: The Impact of Trauma for First Responders - Tuesday, April 24, 2018 in Seal Beach, CA

The Impact of Trauma for First Responders

First Responders are routinely exposed to traumatic incidents and daily pressures that require a strong and stoic toughness of attitude and temperament. The goal of this training is to create awareness regarding the signs and symptoms of burnout, understand normal reactions to a traumatic incident and to prevent PTSD and police suicide.

Presenter:

Dr. Heather Williams – Regional Peer Support Coordinator, Orange County Sheriff's Department

As the Regional Peer Support Coordinator, Heather coordinates a team of 100 OCSD personnel, provides crisis, individual and couples counseling, responds to critical incidents and facilitates a modified model of critical incident debriefing countywide. She is the Co-founder of the Orange County Association of Peer Supporters (OCAPS) and works in partnership with a number of police departments statewide to help develop and sustain peer support programs. In addition, Heather speaks statewide on various topics related to public safety stress, trauma and emotional wellness.

Guest Speaker:

Hear from an officer who was involved in several critical incidents including having a "green light" put out on his life that ultimately resulted in PTSD. His journey to recovery included self-medicating to sleep, an arrest for DUI, addiction and rehabilitation. His story of resiliency and the fight for his life is both heartbreaking and inspirational.

Target audience; Police, Fire and EMS personnel

Subject: The Impact of Trauma for First Responders - Tuesday, April 24, 2018 in Seal Beach, CA

The Impact of Trauma for First Responders

First Responders are routinely exposed to traumatic incidents and daily pressures that require a strong and stoic toughness of attitude and temperament. The goal of this training is to create awareness regarding the signs and symptoms of burnout, understand normal reactions to a traumatic incident and to prevent PTSD and police suicide.

Presenter:

Dr. Heather Williams – Regional Peer Support Coordinator, Orange County Sheriff's Department

As the Regional Peer Support Coordinator, Heather coordinates a team of 100 OCSD personnel, provides crisis, individual and couples counseling, responds to critical incidents and facilitates a modified model of critical incident debriefing countywide. She is the Co-founder of the Orange County Association of Peer Supporters (OCAPS) and works in partnership with a number of police departments statewide to help develop and sustain peer support programs. In addition, Heather speaks statewide on various topics related to public safety stress, trauma and emotional wellness.

Guest Speaker:

Hear from an officer who was involved in several critical incidents including having a "green light" put out on his life that ultimately resulted in PTSD. His journey to recovery included self-medicating to sleep, an arrest for DUI, addiction and rehabilitation. His story of resiliency and the fight for his life is both heartbreaking and inspirational.

Target audience; Police, Fire and EMS personnel

Use of Force Training
Understanding Platform, Efficiency & Proficiency (P.E.P.)

Dear Law Enforcement Professional,

When Law Enforcement Professionals use force on combative suspects, it is commonly referred to as “Ugly” or “Like Making Sausage”. This does not have to be the case. Typically, use of force focuses on pain compliance techniques or devices, however, for some suspects, these will be ineffective and prolong the use of force, exposing the subject and officers to additional injuries, criticism and liability.

A significant percentage of people that law enforcement encounter, are either under the influence of alcohol, drugs, mentally ill or a combination. They may possess an increased tolerance for pain, increased stamina and endurance, making pain compliance techniques ineffective.

The Platform, Efficiency and Proficiency (P.E.P.) philosophy will provide attendees with a greater understanding of how to effectively de-escalate force on “driven individuals” by utilizing common defensive tactics techniques, psychology and sound legal principles.

Presenter: Lieutenant John Domingo, Huntington Beach Police Department

Lt. Domingo has a 29-year career in Law Enforcement. He has been the ACT Coordinator at HBPD for 15 years. As the ACT Coordinator, he is responsible for all departmental policies, review and training regarding force use and tactics. He is a published author and recognized as a department expert in Use of Force and Excited Delirium Syndrome. He is the creator of the P.E.P. © program and force model, which Huntington Beach has been using for 10 years and is now growing within Orange County and other agencies. He has trained hundreds of police officers and instructors and conducted presentations on force use, tactics and philosophy to agencies throughout the country.

Crisis Intervention and Behavioral Health Training Course

Dear Law Enforcement Professional,

Today, police officers are becoming mental health first responders and are often inadequately trained for this task. Tragedies between the police and the mentally ill are occurring more frequent. One "bad incident" can cause devastation to families, the mental health community, police officers and police agencies. Sadly, we are also seeing police officers and police chiefs losing their careers over some of these high profile types of interactions, not to mention the civil penalties being awarded in these cases.

Embassy Consulting Services, LLC has trained over 7,000 law enforcement professionals on how to interact effectively with the mentally ill and is proud to announce it's newest 8-hour class titled "Crisis Intervention and Behavior Health Training". This course satisfies the requirements of Senate Bill 29 which mandates that all Field Training Officers receive 8-hours of Crisis Intervention Training. This class is co-facilitated by Dr. Elijah Levy, a clinical psychologist who has almost 30 years experience working with the mentally ill and Josef Levy, a retired police commander who has over 30 years of law enforcement experience.

Please see the attached flyer for our upcoming class being held at the Seal Beach Police Department on Wednesday, May 30, 2018. Embassy is also accepting reservations to deliver this class at your agency. If you are interested in having this course delivered at your agency for personnel, please contact Josef Levy at (562) 577-5874 or at embassyecs@gmail.com.

Dear Law Enforcement Professional,

Recent terrorist events in the USA and abroad continue to serve as a vivid reminder that "we are living in a different world". A world where US Law Enforcement are on the front lines, not only fighting crime, but fighting terrorism. Understanding the history and ideology of extremist and radical terrorists can better help you understand these tragic events.

On January 7, 2016, a gunman claiming to have pledged allegiance to Islamic State Militants shot and seriously wounded a Philadelphia police officer in an ambush. This event, and others, are leaving law enforcement professionals asking themselves if this is the new normal. Come learn about the history and evolution of radical Islam and the threat they pose to local law enforcement

Embassy Consulting Services, LLC is presenting their eight-hour class titled "The Evolution of Radical Islam". This valuable class is being facilitated by Officer Abe Ashabi, who is an

Internationally known expert on Radical Islam. Officer Ashabi will share his expertise and passion to help participants understand the historic and current issues related to modern day Islam and Terrorism. Because of Officer Ashabi's "down to earth" style, participants will walk away educated and with a better understanding of how history is impacting modern day terrorism.

Topics that will be discussed:

- Officer Safety Investigation Tools
- History of Islam & Sunni Shiite divide
- Israel, Neo Terrorism
- Afghanistan and Russian Invasion
- End of Cold War
- First Gulf War & Balkan War
- The Future of Terrorism
- Explosives
- Hostage Negotiation
- Iranian Revolution
- Hezbollah
- September 11th Terrorist Attack
- Current Affairs
- Understanding ISIS

This class will reach capacity so you are encouraged to REGISTER TODAY!

Subject: The Evolution Of Radical Islam Training Class - March16, 2018 in Henderson, NV - California STC Certified

Dear Law Enforcement Professional,

Recent terrorist events in the USA and abroad continue to serve as a vivid reminder that "we are living in a different world". A world where US Law Enforcement are on the front lines, not only fighting crime, but fighting terrorism. Understanding the history and ideology of extremist and radical terrorists can better help you understand these tragic events.

On January 7, 2016, a gunman claiming to have pledged allegiance to Islamic State Militants shot and seriously wounded a Philadelphia police officer in an ambush. This event, and others, are leaving law enforcement professionals asking themselves if this is the new normal. Come learn about the history and evolution of radical Islam and the threat they pose to local law enforcement

Embassy Consulting Services, LLC is presenting their eight-hour class titled "The Evolution of Radical Islam". This valuable class is being facilitated by Officer Abe Ashabi, who is an

Internationally known expert on Radical Islam. Officer Ashabi will share his expertise and passion to help participants understand the historic and current issues related to modern day Islam and Terrorism. Because of Officer Ashabi's "down to earth" style, participants will walk away educated and with a better understanding of how history is impacting modern day terrorism.

Topics that will be discussed:

- Officer Safety Investigation Tools
- History of Islam & Sunni Shiite divide
- Israel, Neo Terrorism
- Afghanistan and Russian Invasion
- End of Cold War
- First Gulf War & Balkan War
- The Future of Terrorism
- Explosives
- Hostage Negotiation
- Iranian Revolution
- Hezbollah
- September 11th Terrorist Attack
- Current Affairs

Subject: The Impact of Trauma for First Responders - Tuesday, April 24, 2018 in Seal Beach, CA

The Impact of Trauma for First Responders

First Responders are routinely exposed to traumatic incidents and daily pressures that require a strong and stoic toughness of attitude and temperament. The goal of this training is to create awareness regarding the signs and symptoms of burnout, understand normal reactions to a traumatic incident and to prevent PTSD and police suicide.

Presenter:

Dr. Heather Williams – Regional Peer Support Coordinator, Orange County Sheriff's Department

As the Regional Peer Support Coordinator, Heather coordinates a team of 100 OCSD personnel, provides crisis, individual and couples counseling, responds to critical incidents and facilitates a modified model of critical incident debriefing countywide. She is the Co-founder of the Orange County Association of Peer Supporters (OCAPS) and works in partnership with a number of police departments statewide to help develop and sustain peer support programs. In addition, Heather speaks statewide on various topics related to public safety stress, trauma and emotional wellness.

Guest Speaker:

Hear from an officer who was involved in several critical incidents including having a "green light" put out on his life that ultimately resulted in PTSD. His journey to recovery included self-medicating to sleep, an arrest for DUI, addiction and rehabilitation. His story of resiliency and the fight for his life is both heartbreaking and inspirational.

Target audience; Police, Fire and EMS personnel

If you are interested in having this valuable training delivered to members of your department, please contact Josef Levy, President, Embassy Consulting Services at embassy@ymail.com or (562) 577-5874.

Embassy Consulting Services, LLC is owned and operated by Josef Levy, Commander (Retired) Long Beach Police Department.

The Impact of Trauma for First Responders

First Responders are routinely exposed to traumatic incidents and daily pressures that require a strong and stoic toughness of attitude and temperament. The goal of this training is to create awareness regarding the signs and symptoms of burnout, understand normal reactions to a traumatic incident and to prevent PTSD and police suicide.

Presenter:

Dr. Heather Williams – Regional Peer Support Coordinator, Orange County Sheriff's Department

As the Regional Peer Support Coordinator, Heather coordinates a team of 100 OCSD personnel, provides crisis, individual and couples counseling, responds to critical incidents and facilitates a modified model of critical incident debriefing countywide. She is the Co-founder of the Orange County Association of Peer Supporters (OCAPS) and works in partnership with a number of police departments statewide to help develop and sustain peer support programs. In addition, Heather speaks statewide on various topics related to public safety stress, trauma and emotional wellness.

Guest Speaker:

Hear from an officer who was involved in several critical incidents including having a "green light" put out on his life that ultimately resulted in PTSD. His journey to recovery included self-medicating to sleep, an arrest for DUI, addiction and rehabilitation. His story of resiliency and the fight for his life is both heartbreaking and inspirational.

Court & Temporary Holding Facilities Title 15 Training

Dear Law Enforcement Professional,

This Course is a basic overview of Title 15, as it relates to Court and Temporary Holding Facilities and Adult Type 1 Jails. Through lecture, facilitated discussion, shared experiences and case studies, the participants will develop a working knowledge of the regulations established in Title 15 guidelines and special requirements as they relate to juveniles. Participants will also be able to identify potential legal ramifications if they fail to adhere to those regulations. Participants will develop the insight to analyze their current department policies and procedures and identify risk factors that may lead to non-compliance. Participants will also gain a general knowledge of the different types of jail inspections and their role within the inspection process.

Presenter: Michael Ellington, Los Angeles Police Department

A 35-year veteran of the Los Angeles Police Department. In his position as a Principal Detention Officer, he was part of a team responsible for the design, delivery and coordination of state-mandated training for LAPD Correctional Staff. His responsibilities included training entry-level and in-service civilian and sworn personnel in a variety of subjects including: Arrest & Control Tactics, Cell Extraction, Suicide Prevention, Racial Profiling, Jail Operations, First Aid & CPR, Conflict

Resolution, Leadership Principles, Title 15 Guidelines, Time Management, Public Speaking, and Effective Facilitation.

Subject: Bias-Based Policing - Remaining Fair & Impartial Training - February 8, 2018 in Seal Beach, CA

Dear Law Enforcement Professional,

Senate Bill 1102 mandates that all sworn police officers receive training on Racial Profiling/Bias-Based Policing. It also requires a two-hour refresher course every five- years. The latest update, titled "Bias-Based Policing-Remaining Fair and Impartial" must be delivered to all Sworn California Peace Officers. The latest course is designed to help officers recognize bias-based policing and to understand the importance of how their biases can impact their decisions. This class features scenario-based segments and meets the mandate to fulfill the requirements of PC 13519.14 (g) and POST Regulation 1081(a).

Presenter: Josef Levy, Commander, Long Beach Police Department (Ret).

Josef Levy is a retired commander from the Long Beach Police Department and was involved in designing the State Mandated Racial Profiling Curriculum for POST and the State of California. He is a subject matter expert and has trained thousands of law enforcement professionals throughout the country on racial profiling, cultural diversity and a multitude of human relations topics.

Subject: Bias-Based Policing - Remaining Fair & Impartial Training - February 8, 2018 in Seal Beach, CA

Dear Law Enforcement Professional,

Senate Bill 1102 mandates that all sworn police officers receive training on Racial Profiling/Bias-Based Policing. It also requires a two-hour refresher course every five- years. The latest update, titled "Bias-Based Policing-Remaining Fair and Impartial" must be delivered to all Sworn California Peace Officers. The latest course is designed to help officers recognize bias-based policing and to understand the importance of how their biases can impact their decisions. This class features scenario-based segments and meets the mandate to fulfill the requirements of PC 13519.14 (g) and POST Regulation 1081(a).

Presenter: Josef Levy, Commander, Long Beach Police Department (Ret).

Josef Levy is a retired commander from the Long Beach Police Department and was involved in designing the State Mandated Racial Profiling Curriculum for POST and the State of California. He is a subject matter expert and has trained thousands of law enforcement professionals throughout the country on racial profiling, cultural diversity and a multitude of human relations topics.

Navigating Through the Challenges of Policing in the 21st Century

Dear Law Enforcement Professional,

The nature of policing for the modern law enforcement officer requires a mindset of flexibility which allows a deputy or officer to adapt to an ever-changing landscape. Policing, with an adaptive approach, is the way our services are to be delivered. This interactive course will explore and offer insights into the challenges faced by law enforcement professionals in the 21st Century. The class will also address social media, effects on critical thinking, police shooting statistics, relationships with the community, warrior/guardian mindsets and strategies for continued effective policing.

PRESENTER: Sergeant Al Cobos, Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department

Albert Cobos is a sergeant and 29-year veteran of the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department (LASD). He has worked a variety of patrol, jail, detective, special operation, and administrative assignments. He is currently responsible for the Education-Based Discipline Unit and the Education-Based Leadership Unit for the LASD. He is the national expert regarding Education-Based Discipline and he conducts training nation-wide for public safety agencies seeking to implement the program.

Navigating Through the Challenges of Policing in the 21st Century

Dear Law Enforcement Professional,

The nature of policing for the modern law enforcement officer requires a mindset of flexibility which allows a deputy or officer to adapt to an ever-changing landscape. Policing, with an adaptive approach, is the way our services are to be delivered. This interactive course will explore and offer insights into the challenges faced by law enforcement professionals in the 21st Century. The class will also address social media, effects on critical thinking, police shooting statistics, relationships with the community, warrior/guardian mindsets and strategies for continued effective policing.

PRESENTER: Sergeant Al Cobos, Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department

Albert Cobos is a sergeant and 29-year veteran of the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department (LASD). He has worked a variety of patrol, jail, detective, special operation, and administrative assignments. He is currently responsible for the Education-Based Discipline Unit and the Education-Based Leadership Unit for the LASD. He is the national expert regarding Education-Based Discipline and he conducts training nation-wide for public safety agencies seeking to implement the program.

Use of Force Training
Understanding Platform, Efficiency & Proficiency (P.E.P.)

Dear Law Enforcement Professional,

When Law Enforcement Professionals use force on combative suspects, it is commonly referred to as “Ugly” or “Like Making Sausage”. This does not have to be the case. Typically, use of force focuses on pain compliance techniques or devices, however, for some suspects, these will be ineffective and prolong the use of force, exposing the subject and officers to additional injuries, criticism and liability.

A significant percentage of people that law enforcement encounter, are either under the influence of alcohol, drugs, mentally ill or a combination. They may possess an increased tolerance for pain, increased stamina and endurance, making pain compliance techniques ineffective.

The Platform, Efficiency and Proficiency (P.E.P.) philosophy will provide attendees with a greater understanding of how to effectively de-escalate force on “driven individuals” by utilizing common defensive tactics techniques, psychology and sound legal principles.

Presenter: Lieutenant John Domingo, Huntington Beach Police Department

Lt. Domingo has a 29-year career in Law Enforcement. He has been the ACT Coordinator at HBPD for 15 years. As the ACT Coordinator, he is responsible for all departmental policies, review and training regarding force use and tactics. He is a published author and recognized as a department expert in Use of Force and Excited Delirium Syndrome. He is the creator of the P.E.P. © program and force model, which Huntington Beach has been using for 10 years and is now growing within Orange County and other agencies. He has trained hundreds of police officers and instructors and conducted presentations on force use, tactics and philosophy to agencies throughout the country.

Court & Temporary Holding Facilities Title 15 Training

Dear Law Enforcement Professional,

This Course is a basic overview of Title 15, as it relates to Court and Temporary Holding Facilities and Adult Type 1 Jails. Through lecture, facilitated discussion, shared experiences and case studies, the participants will develop a working knowledge of the regulations established in Title 15 guidelines and special requirements as they relate to juveniles. Participants will also be able to identify potential legal ramifications if they fail to adhere to those regulations. Participants will develop the insight to analyze their current department policies and procedures and identify risk factors that may lead to non-compliance. Participants will also gain a general knowledge of the different types of jail inspections and their role within the inspection process.

Presenter: Michael Ellington, Los Angeles Police Department

A 35-year veteran of the Los Angeles Police Department. In his position as a Principal Detention Officer, he was part of a team responsible for the design, delivery and coordination of state-mandated training for LAPD Correctional Staff. His responsibilities included training entry-level and in-service civilian and sworn personnel in a variety of subjects including: Arrest & Control Tactics, Cell Extraction, Suicide Prevention, Racial Profiling, Jail Operations, First Aid & CPR, Conflict

Resolution, Leadership Principles, Title 15 Guidelines, Time Management, Public Speaking, and Effective Facilitation.

That's a great idea, Joe! Chief Luna can be at the podium when introducing Doug to the stage to accept his award. We'd still like to include him in the video, too.

Julie, please feel free to reach me directly to determine Chief Luna's interest and availability for appearing in the filming in Doug's award video. It would only take about 15 minutes of his time. We're filming Jan. 17, 18 and possibly the 19.

Thanks, [REDACTED]

Hi [REDACTED]

Happy New Year!! I think this is a great idea, especially for Chief Luna since he works much closer with Doug than Sheriff McDonnell. Not sure about having McDonnell on video, but definitely Chief Luna. To get permission, I have including Julie Bedard, who is the Chief Luna's assistant in this email, in hopes she can weigh in. In fact, I think I better idea is to ask Chief Luna (if he is available) to attend as a guest of Goodwill so he can speak in person. I do not have a contact for Sheriff McDonnell.

Please let me know if I can help. Thanks, JOE

Hi Joe,

I hope you enjoyed your holiday. Sola recommended that I get in touch with you since you're closely connected to Chief Robert Luna and Sheriff Jim McDonnell. We'd like to feature them in a video we're producing on Doug Haubert for our awards dinner.

Do you know how I should best reach them to determine their interest/availability for talking on camera about why Doug Haubert is deserving our Community Leader of the Year award? We will be filming Wednesday, January 17 and Thursday, January 18 and possibly that Friday as well. The filming should take no more than 15 minutes of their time.

Please let me know when you get an opportunity.

Subject: Bias-Based Policing - Remaining Fair & Impartial Training - February 8, 2018 in Seal Beach, CA

Dear Law Enforcement Professional,

Senate Bill 1102 mandates that all sworn police officers receive training on Racial Profiling/Bias-Based Policing. It also requires a two-hour refresher course every five- years. The latest update, titled "Bias-Based Policing-Remaining Fair and Impartial" must be delivered to all Sworn California Peace Officers. The latest course is designed to help officers recognize bias-based policing and to understand the importance of how their biases can impact their decisions. This class features scenario-based segments and meets the mandate to fulfill the requirements of PC 13519.14 (g) and POST Regulation 1081(a).

Presenter: Josef Levy, Commander, Long Beach Police Department (Ret).

Josef Levy is a retired commander from the Long Beach Police Department and was involved in designing the State Mandated Racial Profiling Curriculum for POST and the State of California. He is a subject matter expert and has trained thousands of law enforcement professionals throughout the country on racial profiling, cultural diversity and a multitude of human relations topics.

Navigating Through the Challenges of Policing in the 21st Century

Dear Law Enforcement Professional,

The nature of policing for the modern law enforcement officer requires a mindset of flexibility which allows a deputy or officer to adapt to an ever-changing landscape. Policing, with an adaptive approach, is the way our services are to be delivered. This interactive course will explore and offer insights into the challenges faced by law enforcement professionals in the 21st Century. The class will also address social media, effects on critical thinking, police shooting statistics, relationships with the community, warrior/guardian mindsets and strategies for continued effective policing.

PRESENTER: Sergeant Al Cobos, Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department

Albert Cobos is a sergeant and 29-year veteran of the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department (LASD). He has worked a variety of patrol, jail, detective, special operation, and administrative assignments. He is currently responsible for the Education-Based Discipline Unit and the Education-Based Leadership Unit for the LASD. He is the national expert regarding Education-Based Discipline and he conducts training nation-wide for public safety agencies seeking to implement the program.

Navigating Through the Challenges of Policing in the 21st Century

Dear Law Enforcement Professional,

The nature of policing for the modern law enforcement officer requires a mindset of flexibility which allows a deputy or officer to adapt to an ever-changing landscape. Policing, with an adaptive approach, is the way our services are to be delivered. This interactive course will explore and offer insights into the challenges faced by law enforcement professionals in the 21st Century. The class will also address social media, effects on critical thinking, police shooting statistics, relationships with the community, warrior/guardian mindsets and strategies for continued effective policing.

PRESENTER: Sergeant Al Cobos, Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department

Albert Cobos is a sergeant and 29-year veteran of the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department (LASD). He has worked a variety of patrol, jail, detective, special operation, and administrative assignments. He is currently responsible for the Education-Based Discipline Unit and the Education-Based Leadership Unit for the LASD. He is the national expert regarding Education-Based Discipline and he conducts training nation-wide for public safety agencies seeking to implement the program.
