Crisis Intervention and Behavioral Health Training Course

Dear Law Enforcement Professional,

Are you a Field Training Officer? Are you in compliance with Senate Bill 29, which Governor Brown signed into law on October 3, 2015? In brief, SB 29 mandates mental health training for Field Training Officers (FTO).

Field Training Officers (FTO) will complete 8 hours of crisis intervention behavioral health training (CIT) as follows:

- FTOs assigned or appointed before January 1, 2017 shall complete the training by June 30, 2017
- FTOs assigned or appointed after January 1, 2017 shall complete the training within 180 days of assignment or appointment

Today, police officers are becoming mental health first responders and are often inadequately trained for this task. Tragedies between the police and the mentally ill are occurring more frequent. One "bad incident" can cause devastation to families, the mental health community, police officers and police agencies. Sadly, we are also seeing police officers and police chiefs losing their careers over some of these high profile types of interactions, not to mention the civil penalties being awarded in these cases.

Embassy Consulting Services, LLC has trained over 6,000 law enforcement professionals on how to interact effectively with the mentally ill and is proud to announce it's newest 8-hour class titled "Crisis Intervention and Behavior Health Training". This course satisfies the requirements of Senate Bill 29 which mandates that all Field Training Officers receive 8-hours of Crisis Intervention Training. This class is co-facilitated by Dr. Elijah Levy, a clinical psychologist who has over 25 years experience working with the mentally ill and Josef Levy, a retired police commander who has over 30 years of law enforcement experience.

Please see the attached flyer for our upcoming class being held at the Seal Beach Police Department on Tuesday, December 19, 2017. Embassy is also accepting reservations to deliver this class at your agency. If you are interested in having this course delivered at your agency for your FTO's or other personnel trained, please contact Josef Levy at (562) 577-5874 or at embassyecs@ymail.com.

Seats for this class will fill up fast, REGISTER TODAY!

Crisis Intervention and Behavioral Health Training Course

Dear Law Enforcement Professional,

Are you a Field Training Officer? Are you in compliance with Senate Bill 29, which Governor Brown signed into law on October 3, 2015? In brief, SB 29 mandates mental health training for Field Training Officers (FTO).

Field Training Officers (FTO) will complete 8 hours of crisis intervention behavioral health training (CIT) as follows:

- FTOs assigned or appointed before January 1, 2017 shall complete the training by June 30, 2017
- FTOs assigned or appointed after January 1, 2017 shall complete the training within 180 days of assignment or appointment

Today, police officers are becoming mental health first responders and are often inadequately trained for this task. Tragedies between the police and the mentally ill are occurring more frequent. One "bad incident" can cause devastation to families, the mental health community, police officers and police agencies. Sadly, we are also seeing police officers and police chiefs losing their careers over some of these high profile types of interactions, not to mention the civil penalties being awarded in these cases.

Crisis Intervention and Behavioral Health Training Course

Dear Law Enforcement Professional,

Are you a Field Training Officer? Are you in compliance with Senate Bill 29, which Governor Brown signed into law on October 3, 2015? In brief, SB 29 mandates mental health training for Field Training Officers (FTO).

Field Training Officers (FTO) will complete 8 hours of crisis intervention behavioral health training (CIT) as follows:

- FTOs assigned or appointed before January 1, 2017 shall complete the training by June 30, 2017
- FTOs assigned or appointed after January 1, 2017 shall complete the training within 180 days of assignment or appointment

Today, police officers are becoming mental health first responders and are often inadequately trained for this task. Tragedies between the police and the mentally ill are occurring more frequent. One "bad incident" can cause devastation to families, the mental health community, police officers and police agencies. Sadly, we are also seeing police officers and police chiefs losing their careers over some of these high profile types of interactions, not to mention the civil penalties being awarded in these cases.

Embassy Consulting Services, LLC has trained over 6,000 law enforcement professionals on how to interact effectively with the mentally ill and is proud to announce it's newest 8-hour class titled "Crisis Intervention and Behavior Health Training". This course satisfies the requirements of Senate Bill 29 which mandates that all Field Training Officers receive 8-hours of Crisis Intervention Training. This class is co-facilitated by Dr. Elijah Levy, a clinical psychologist who has over 25 years experience working with the mentally ill and Josef Levy, a retired police commander who has over 30 years of law enforcement experience.

Please see the attached flyer for our upcoming class being held at the Seal Beach Police Department on Tuesday, December 19, 2017. Embassy is also accepting reservations to deliver this class at your agency. If you are interested in having this course delivered at your agency for your FTO's or other personnel trained, please contact Josef Levy at (562) 577-5874 or at embassyecs@ymail.com.

Crisis Intervention and Behavioral Health Training Course

Dear Law Enforcement Professional,

Are you a Field Training Officer? Are you in compliance with Senate Bill 29, which Governor Brown signed into law on October 3, 2015? In brief, SB 29 mandates mental health training for Field Training Officers (FTO).

Field Training Officers (FTO) will complete 8 hours of crisis intervention behavioral health training (CIT) as follows:

- FTOs assigned or appointed before January 1, 2017 shall complete the training by June 30, 2017
- FTOs assigned or appointed after January 1, 2017 shall complete the training within 180 days of assignment or appointment

Today, police officers are becoming mental health first responders and are often inadequately trained for this task. Tragedies between the police and the mentally ill are occurring more frequent. One "bad incident" can cause devastation to families, the mental health community, police officers and police agencies. Sadly, we are also seeing police officers and police chiefs losing their careers over some of these high profile types of interactions, not to mention the civil penalties being awarded in these cases.

Embassy Consulting Services, LLC has trained over 6,000 law enforcement professionals on how to interact effectively with the mentally ill and is proud to announce it's newest 8-hour class titled "Crisis Intervention and Behavior Health Training". This course satisfies the requirements of Senate Bill 29 which mandates that all Field Training Officers receive 8-hours of Crisis Intervention Training. This class is co-facilitated by Dr. Elijah Levy, a clinical psychologist who has over 25 years experience working with the mentally ill and Josef Levy, a retired police commander who has over 30 years of law enforcement experience.

Please see the attached flyer for our upcoming class being held at the Seal Beach Police Department on Tuesday, December 19, 2017. Embassy is also accepting reservations to deliver this class at your agency. If you are interested in having this course delivered at your agency for your FTO's or other personnel trained, please contact Josef Levy at (562) 577-5874 or at embassyecs@gmail.com.

Policing, with an adaptive approach, is the way our services are to be delivered. ADAPTIVE POLICING

Dear Law Enforcement Professional,

The nature of policing for the modern law enforcement officer requires a mindset of flexibility which allows a deputy or officer to adapt to an ever-changing landscape. Policing, with an adaptive approach, is the way our services are to be delivered. This course addresses and offers insight into the following challenges faced by law enforcement professionals: social media, “fake news” effects on critical thinking, police shooting statistics, relationships with the community, warrior/guardian mindsets, and strategies for continued effective policing.

Come learn about the history and evolution of radical Islam and the threat they pose to local law enforcement

- Afghanistan and Russian Invasion
- End of Cold War

A world where US Law Enforcement are on the front lines, not only fighting crime, but fighting terrorism. Understanding the history and ideology of extremist and radical terrorists can better help you understand these tragic events.

On January 7, 2016, a gunman claiming to have pledged allegiance to Islamic State Militants shot and seriously wounded a Philadelphia police officer in an ambush. This event, and others, are leaving law enforcement professionals asking themselves if this is the new normal. Come learn about the history and evolution of radical Islam and the threat they pose to local law enforcement

Because of Officer Ashabi's "down to earth" style, participants will walk away educated and with a better understanding of how history is impacting modern day terrorism.

Topics that will be discussed:

- Officer Safety Investigation Tools
- History of Islam & Sunni Shiite divide
- Israel, Neo Terrorism
- Afghanistan and Russian Invasion
- End of Cold War

Hello DC Beckman and Lieutenant Foster-

As you know, the National Law Enforcement Cancer Support Foundation was created by me and Commander Steve Bowles from the Seal Beach Police Department. Over the years, we have provided support to many law enforcement professionals, including many from the Long Beach Police Department.

The Law Enforcement Cancer Support Foundation (LECSF) is a 501 (c)3 nonprofit organization dedicated to supporting individuals in the law enforcement community going through a cancer journey. LECSF is a nationwide organization driven by volunteers and supported by private donations.

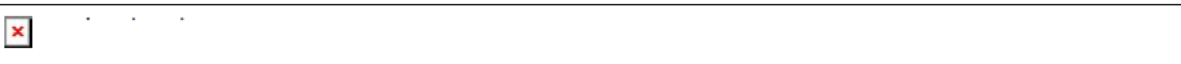

The network of mentors is comprised of law enforcement cancer survivors who are committed to serve others by upholding bravery, faith, strength and courage during a cancer journey. In addition to support, the LECSF provides ongoing cancer education, emphasizing early detection and prevention to all law enforcement personnel.

I was hoping you can help spread the word about our upcoming fundraiser by sending this email and attachments out to your department (DC Beckman) and to the LBPOA membership (Lt. Foster)

Thank you both in advance, JOE

Building Resiliency In Law Enforcement During Challenging Times

Dear Law Enforcement Professional,

Law enforcement officers are exposed to more stress than the general public, due to the challenging nature of their job. In addition to working in a dangerous environment, officers are responding to horrific and tragic events, which can impact their physical, emotional and psychological well being.

When officers experience stress at both work and home, their coping ability can be compromised, putting them at a higher risk for substance abuse, domestic violence, divorce, excessive force while policing, PTSD and even suicide. To compound the issue, traditional "police culture" has not historically supported efforts to even acknowledge mental health problems, which are usually seen as a sign of "weakness."

Officer Wellness was a Pillar in President Obama's 21st Century Policing Report and Embassy Consulting Services, LLC recognizes the importance of addressing these important issues. Embassy has designed a course titled "Building Resiliency for Law Enforcement during Challenging Times". The class is being held in partnership with the Seal Beach Police Department on August 16, 2017.

The goal of this training is to create awareness regarding the signs and symptoms of burnout and recognize the signs to prevent police suicide and P.T.S.D. The class will also explore ways to build resiliency and learn how to overcome the traumas of the job, in order to create a healthy balance at work and home. Spouses and significant others are encouraged to register and attend.

PRESENTER: Heather Williams, Regional Peer Support Coordinator, Orange County Sheriff's Department

GUEST SPEAKER: Michael Beckman, Deputy Chief, Long Beach Police Department
Anguished by his son Stephen's suicide, Deputy Chief Beckman relates a powerful story of Stephen's life, death, and the profound personal and professional revelations that resulted from his passing. Audiences have been informed and inspired by his powerful testimony.

ADDITIONAL SPEAKER: De Anne Wigginton, Investigator, Orange County Sheriff's Department

Investigator Wigginton was working patrol when an audible alarm call came over the radio. She recognized the address, but couldn't remember why right off hand. While enroute, it dawned on her that it was the home of a deputy. The call was updated to a man down with a gunshot wound and when she arrived, she learned a deputy had committed suicide. Through honest and raw dialog, Investigator Wigginton will discuss her response and the impact it had on her as she was not only a first responder, but also a member of peer support trying to assist others impacted by this tragedy.

TARGET AUDIENCE: Law Enforcement, Fire Personnel & Emergency Responders and spouses/significant others. Peer Support Members are encouraged to attend as teams.

Crisis Intervention and Behavioral Health Training Course

Dear Law Enforcement Professional,

Are you a Field Training Officer? Are you in compliance with Senate Bill 29, which Governor Brown signed into law on October 3, 2015? In brief, SB 29 mandates mental health training for Field Training Officers (FTO).

Field Training Officers (FTO) will complete 8 hours of crisis intervention behavioral health training (CIT) as follows:

- FTOs assigned or appointed before January 1, 2017 shall complete the training by June 30, 2017
- FTOs assigned or appointed after January 1, 2017 shall complete the training within 180 days of assignment or appointment

Today, police officers are becoming mental health first responders and are often inadequately trained for this task. Tragedies between the police and the mentally ill are occurring more frequent. One "bad incident" can cause devastation to families, the mental health community, police officers and police agencies. Sadly, we are also seeing police officers and police chiefs losing their careers over some of these high profile types of interactions, not to mention the civil penalties being awarded in these cases.

Embassy Consulting Services, LLC has trained over 6,000 law enforcement professionals on how to interact effectively with the mentally ill and is proud to announce it's newest 8-hour class titled "Crisis Intervention and Behavior Health Training". This course satisfies the requirements of Senate Bill 29 which mandates that all Field Training Officers receive 8-hours of Crisis Intervention Training. This class is co-facilitated by Dr. Elijah Levy, a clinical psychologist who has over 25 years experience working with the mentally ill and Josef Levy, a retired police commander who has over 30 years of law enforcement experience.

Please see the attached flyer for our upcoming class being held at the Seal Beach Police Department on Tuesday, July 25, 2017. Embassy is also accepting reservations to deliver this class at your agency. If you are interested in having this course delivered at your agency for your FTO's or other personnel trained, please contact Josef Levy at (562) 577-5874 or at embassyecs@ymail.com.

Subject: Building Resiliency In Law Enforcement During Challenging Times Training Class -
August 16, 2017 in Seal Beach, CA

Building Resiliency In Law Enforcement During Challenging Times

Dear Law Enforcement Professional,

Law enforcement officers are exposed to more stress than the general public, due to the challenging nature of their job. In addition to working in a dangerous environment, officers are responding to horrific and tragic events, which can impact their physical, emotional and psychological well being.

When officers experience stress at both work and home, their coping ability can be compromised, putting them at a higher risk for substance abuse, domestic violence, divorce, excessive force while policing, PTSD and even suicide. To compound the issue, traditional "police culture" has not historically supported efforts to even acknowledge mental health problems, which are usually seen as a sign of "weakness."

Officer Wellness was a Pillar in President Obama's 21st Century Policing Report and Embassy Consulting Services, LLC recognizes the importance of addressing these important issues. Embassy has designed a course titled "Building Resiliency for Law Enforcement during Challenging Times". The class is being held in partnership with the Seal Beach Police Department on August 16, 2017.

The goal of this training is to create awareness regarding the signs and symptoms of burnout and recognize the signs to prevent police suicide and P.T.S.D. The class will also explore ways to build resiliency and learn how to overcome the traumas of the job, in order to create a healthy balance at work and home. Spouses and significant others are encouraged to register and attend.

PRESENTER: Heather Williams, Regional Peer Support Coordinator, Orange County Sheriff's Department

GUEST SPEAKER: Michael Beckman, Deputy Chief, Long Beach Police Department
Anguished by his son Stephen's suicide, Deputy Chief Beckman relates a powerful story of Stephen's life, death, and the profound personal and professional revelations that resulted from his passing. Audiences have been informed and inspired by his powerful testimony.

ADDITIONAL SPEAKER: Hear from an officer who was involved in several critical incidents including having a "green light" put out on his life that ultimately resulted in PTSD. His journey to recovery included self-medicating to sleep, a DUI, addiction and rehabilitation. His story of resiliency and the fight for his life is both heartbreaking and inspirational.

TARGET AUDIENCE: Law Enforcement, Fire Personnel & Emergency Responders and spouses/significant others. Peer Support Members are encouraged to attend as teams.

Subject: Building Resiliency In Law Enforcement During Challenging Times Training Class - August 16, 2017 in Seal Beach, CA

Building Resiliency In Law Enforcement During Challenging Times

Dear Law Enforcement Professional,

Law enforcement officers are exposed to more stress than the general public, due to the challenging nature of their job. In addition to working in a dangerous environment, officers are responding to horrific and tragic events, which can impact their physical, emotional and psychological well being.

When officers experience stress at both work and home, their coping ability can be compromised, putting them at a higher risk for substance abuse, domestic violence, divorce, excessive force while policing, PTSD and even suicide. To compound the issue, traditional "police culture" has not historically supported efforts to even acknowledge mental health problems, which are usually seen as a sign of "weakness."

Officer Wellness was a Pillar in President Obama's 21st Century Policing Report and Embassy Consulting Services, LLC recognizes the importance of addressing these important issues. Embassy has designed a course titled "Building Resiliency for Law Enforcement during Challenging Times". The class is being held in partnership with the Seal Beach Police Department on August 16, 2017.

The goal of this training is to create awareness regarding the signs and symptoms of burnout and recognize the signs to prevent police suicide and P.T.S.D. The class will also explore ways to build resiliency and learn how to overcome the traumas of the job, in order to create a healthy balance at work and home. Spouses and significant others are encouraged to register and attend.

PRESENTER: Heather Williams, Regional Peer Support Coordinator, Orange County Sheriff's Department

GUEST SPEAKER: Michael Beckman, Deputy Chief, Long Beach Police Department
Anguished by his son Stephen's suicide, Deputy Chief Beckman relates a powerful story of Stephen's life, death, and the profound personal and professional revelations that resulted from his passing. Audiences have been informed and inspired by his powerful testimony.

ADDITIONAL SPEAKER: Hear from an officer who was involved in several critical incidents including having a "green light" put out on his life that ultimately resulted in PTSD. His journey to recovery included self-medicating to sleep, a DUI, addiction and rehabilitation. His story of resiliency and the fight for his life is both heartbreaking and inspirational.

TARGET AUDIENCE: Law Enforcement, Fire Personnel & Emergency Responders and spouses/significant others. Peer Support Members are encouraged to attend as teams.

Crisis Intervention and Behavioral Health Training Course

Dear Law Enforcement Professional,

Are you a Field Training Officer? Are you in compliance with Senate Bill 29, which Governor Brown signed into law on October 3, 2015? In brief, SB 29 mandates mental health training for Field Training Officers (FTO).

Field Training Officers (FTO) will complete 8 hours of crisis intervention behavioral health training (CIT) as follows:

- FTOs assigned or appointed before January 1, 2017 shall complete the training by June 30, 2017
- FTOs assigned or appointed after January 1, 2017 shall complete the training within 180 days of assignment or appointment

Today, police officers are becoming mental health first responders and are often inadequately trained for this task. Tragedies between the police and the mentally ill are occurring more frequent. One "bad incident" can cause devastation to families, the mental health community, police officers and police agencies. Sadly, we are also seeing police officers and police chiefs losing their careers over some of these high profile types of interactions, not to mention the civil penalties being awarded in these cases.

Embassy Consulting Services, LLC has trained over 6,000 law enforcement professionals on how to interact effectively with the mentally ill and is proud to announce it's newest 8-hour class titled "Crisis Intervention and Behavior Health Training". This course satisfies the requirements of Senate Bill 29 which mandates that all Field Training Officers receive 8-hours of Crisis Intervention Training. This class is co-facilitated by Dr. Elijah Levy, a clinical psychologist who has over 25 years experience working with the mentally ill and Josef Levy, a retired police commander who has over 30 years of law enforcement experience.

Please see the attached flyer for our upcoming class being held at the Palm Springs Police Department on Friday, June 23, 2017. Embassy is also accepting reservations to deliver this class at your agency. If you are interested in having this course delivered at your agency for your FTO's or other personnel trained, please contact Josef Levy at (562) 577-5874 or at embassyecs@ymail.com.

Seats for this class will fill up fast, REGISTER TODAY!

One "bad incident" can cause devastation to families, the mental health community, police officers and police agencies. Sadly, we are also seeing police officers and police chiefs losing their careers over some of these high profile types of interactions, not to mention the civil penalties being awarded in these cases.

Embassy Consulting Services, LLC has trained over 6,000 law enforcement professionals on how to interact effectively with the mentally ill and is proud to announce it's newest 8-hour class titled "Crisis Intervention and Behavior Health Training". This course satisfies the requirements of Senate Bill 29 which mandates that all Field Training Officers receive 8-hours of Crisis Intervention Training. This class is co-facilitated by Dr. Elijah Levy, a clinical psychologist who has over 25 years experience working with the mentally ill and Josef Levy, a retired police commander who has over 30 years of law enforcement experience.

Please see the attached flyer for our upcoming class being held at the Palm Springs Police Department on Friday, June 23, 2017. Embassy is also accepting reservations to deliver this class at your agency. If you are interested in having this course delivered at your agency for your FTO's or other personnel trained, please contact Josef Levy at (562) 577-5874 or at embassyecs@ymail.com.

Crisis Intervention and Behavioral Health Training Course

Dear Law Enforcement Professional,

Are you a Field Training Officer? Are you in compliance with Senate Bill 29, which Governor Brown signed into law on October 3, 2015? In brief, SB 29 mandates mental health training for Field Training Officers (FTO).

Field Training Officers (FTO) will complete 8 hours of crisis intervention behavioral health training (CIT) as follows:

- FTOs assigned or appointed before January 1, 2017 shall complete the training by June 30, 2017
- FTOs assigned or appointed after January 1, 2017 shall complete the training within 180 days of assignment or appointment

Today, police officers are becoming mental health first responders and are often inadequately trained for this task. Tragedies between the police and the mentally ill are occurring more frequent. One "bad incident" can cause devastation to families, the mental health community, police officers and police agencies. Sadly, we are also seeing police officers and police chiefs losing their careers over some of these high profile types of interactions, not to mention the civil penalties being awarded in these cases.

Dear Law Enforcement Professional,

Are you a Field Training Officer? Are you in compliance with Senate Bill 29, which Governor Brown signed into law on October 3, 2015? In brief, SB 29 mandates mental health training for Field Training Officers (FTO).

Field Training Officers (FTO) will complete 8 hours of crisis intervention behavioral health training (CIT) as follows:

- FTOs assigned or appointed before January 1, 2017 shall complete the training by June 30, 2017
- FTOs assigned or appointed after January 1, 2017 shall complete the training within 180 days of assignment or appointment

Today, police officers are becoming mental health first responders and are often inadequately trained for this task. Tragedies between the police and the mentally ill are occurring more frequent. One "bad incident" can cause devastation to families, the mental health community, police officers and police agencies. Sadly, we are also seeing police officers and police chiefs losing their careers over some of these high profile types of interactions, not to mention the civil penalties being awarded in these cases.

Embassy Consulting Services, LLC has trained over 6,000 law enforcement professionals on how to interact effectively with the mentally ill and is proud to announce it's newest 8-hour class titled "Crisis Intervention and Behavior Health Training". This course satisfies the requirements of Senate Bill 29 which mandates that all Field Training Officers receive 8-hours of Crisis Intervention Training. This class is co-facilitated by Dr. Elijah Levy, a clinical psychologist who has over 25 years experience working with the mentally ill and Josef Levy, a retired police commander who has over 30 years of law enforcement experience.

Please see the attached flyer for our upcoming class being held at the Palm Springs Police Department on Friday, June 23, 2017. Embassy is also accepting reservations to deliver this class at your agency. If you are interested in having this course delivered at your agency for your FTO's or other personnel trained, please contact Josef Levy at (562) 577-5874 or at embassyecs@ymail.com.

Crisis Intervention and Behavioral Health Training Course

Dear Law Enforcement Professional,

Are you a Field Training Officer? Are you in compliance with Senate Bill 29, which Governor Brown signed into law on October 3, 2015? In brief, SB 29 mandates mental health training for Field Training Officers (FTO).

Field Training Officers (FTO) will complete 8 hours of crisis intervention behavioral health training (CIT) as follows:

- FTOs assigned or appointed before January 1, 2017 shall complete the training by June 30, 2017
- FTOs assigned or appointed after January 1, 2017 shall complete the training within 180 days of assignment or appointment

Today, police officers are becoming mental health first responders and are often inadequately trained for this task. Tragedies between the police and the mentally ill are occurring more frequent. One "bad incident" can cause devastation to families, the mental health community, police officers and police agencies. Sadly, we are also seeing police officers and police chiefs losing their careers over some of these high profile types of interactions, not to mention the civil penalties being awarded in these cases.

Embassy Consulting Services, LLC has trained over 6,000 law enforcement professionals on how to interact effectively with the mentally ill and is proud to announce it's newest 8-hour class titled "Crisis Intervention and Behavior Health Training". This course satisfies the requirements of Senate Bill 29 which mandates that all Field Training Officers receive 8-hours of Crisis Intervention Training. This class is co-facilitated by Dr. Elijah Levy, a clinical psychologist who has over 25 years experience working with the mentally ill and Josef Levy, a retired police commander who has over 30 years of law enforcement experience.

Please see the attached flyer for our upcoming class being held at the Seal Beach Police Department on Tuesday, July 25, 2017. Embassy is also accepting reservations to deliver this class at your agency. If you are interested in having this course delivered at your agency for your FTO's or other personnel trained, please contact Josef Levy at (562) 577-5874 or at embassyecs@ymail.com.

Subject: Building Resiliency In Law Enforcement During Challenging Times Training Class - August 16, 2017 in Seal Beach, CA

Building Resiliency In Law Enforcement During Challenging Times

Dear Law Enforcement Professional,

Law enforcement officers are exposed to more stress than the general public, due to the challenging nature of their job. In addition to working in a dangerous environment, officers are responding to horrific and tragic events, which can impact their physical, emotional and psychological well being.

When officers experience stress at both work and home, their coping ability can be compromised, putting them at a higher risk for substance abuse, domestic violence, divorce, excessive force while policing, PTSD and even suicide. To compound the issue, traditional "police culture" has not historically supported efforts to even acknowledge mental health problems, which are usually seen as a sign of "weakness."

Officer Wellness was a Pillar in President Obama's 21st Century Policing Report and Embassy Consulting Services, LLC recognizes the importance of addressing these important issues. Embassy has designed a course titled "Building Resiliency for Law Enforcement during Challenging Times". The class is being held in partnership with the Seal Beach Police Department on August 16, 2017.

The goal of this training is to create awareness regarding the signs and symptoms of burnout and recognize the signs to prevent police suicide and P.T.S.D. The class will also explore ways to build resiliency and learn how to overcome the traumas of the job, in order to create a healthy balance at work and home. Spouses and significant others are encouraged to register and attend.

PRESENTER: Heather Williams, Regional Peer Support Coordinator, Orange County Sheriff's Department

GUEST SPEAKER: Michael Beckman, Deputy Chief, Long Beach Police Department
Anguished by his son Stephen's suicide, Deputy Chief Beckman relates a powerful story of Stephen's life, death, and the profound personal and professional revelations that resulted from his passing. Audiences have been informed and inspired by his powerful testimony.

ADDITIONAL SPEAKER: Hear from an officer who was involved in several critical incidents including having a "green light" put out on his life that ultimately resulted in PTSD. His journey to recovery included self-medicating to sleep, a DUI, addiction and rehabilitation. His story of resiliency and the fight for his life is both heartbreaking and inspirational.

TARGET AUDIENCE: Law Enforcement, Fire Personnel & Emergency Responders and spouses/significant others. Peer Support Members are encouraged to attend as teams.

Throughout the course you will hear Paul say, "it is not enough to know WHAT your kids are listening to ... you must know ABOUT the things your kids are listening to." This course will help you expand your knowledge of today's popular culture.

> The objective of the course is to improve communication between adults and kids by identifying the "noise" that is generated from popular culture that makes such communication difficult. The presentation will offer examples from music, television, movies, the Internet and video games that impede communication between youth and adults.

Crisis Intervention and Behavioral Health Training Course

Dear Law Enforcement Professional,

Are you a Field Training Officer? Are you in compliance with Senate Bill 29, which Governor Brown signed into law on October 3, 2015? In brief, SB 29 mandates mental health training for Field Training Officers (FTO).

Field Training Officers (FTO) will complete 8 hours of crisis intervention behavioral health training (CIT) as follows:

- FTOs assigned or appointed before January 1, 2017 shall complete the training by June 30, 2017
- FTOs assigned or appointed after January 1, 2017 shall complete the training within 180 days of assignment or appointment

Today, police officers are becoming mental health first responders and are often inadequately trained for this task. Tragedies between the police and the mentally ill are occurring more frequent. One "bad incident" can cause devastation to families, the mental health community, police officers and police agencies. Sadly, we are also seeing police officers and police chiefs losing their careers over some of these high profile types of interactions, not to mention the civil penalties being awarded in these cases.

Embassy Consulting Services, LLC has trained over 6,000 law enforcement professionals on how to interact effectively with the mentally ill and is proud to announce it's newest 8-hour class titled "Crisis Intervention and Behavior Health Training". This course satisfies the requirements of Senate Bill 29 which mandates that all Field Training Officers receive 8-hours of Crisis Intervention Training. This class is co-facilitated by Dr. Elijah Levy, a clinical psychologist who has over 25 years experience working with the mentally ill and Josef Levy, a retired police commander who has over 30 years of law enforcement experience.

Please see the attached flyer for our upcoming class being held at the Seal Beach Police Department on Tuesday, July 25, 2017. Embassy is also accepting reservations to deliver this class at your agency. If you are interested in having this course delivered at your agency for your FTO's or other personnel trained, please contact Josef Levy at (562) 577-5874 or at embassyecs@ymail.com.

Our friend Will Cullen asked my wife and I to volunteer and I was thinking about coming in uniform working it in the capacity of a Reserve Officer. In the event you were assigning someone to attend, just wanted to let you know I was going to be out there, unless you had any problem with it. Crisis Intervention and Behavioral Health Training Course

Dear Law Enforcement Professional,

Are you a Field Training Officer? Are you in compliance with Senate Bill 29, which Governor Brown signed into law on October 3, 2015? In brief, SB 29 mandates mental health training for Field Training Officers (FTO).

Field Training Officers (FTO) will complete 8 hours of crisis intervention behavioral health training (CIT) as follows:

- FTOs assigned or appointed before January 1, 2017 shall complete the training by June 30, 2017
- FTOs assigned or appointed after January 1, 2017 shall complete the training within 180 days of assignment or appointment

Today, police officers are becoming mental health first responders and are often inadequately trained for this task. Tragedies between the police and the mentally ill are occurring more frequent. One "bad incident" can cause devastation to families, the mental health community, police officers and police agencies. Sadly, we are also seeing police officers and police chiefs losing their careers over some of these high profile types of interactions, not to mention the civil penalties being awarded in these cases.

Embassy Consulting Services, LLC has trained over 6,000 law enforcement professionals on how to interact effectively with the mentally ill and is proud to announce it's newest 8-hour class titled "Crisis Intervention and Behavior Health Training". This course satisfies the requirements of Senate Bill 29 which mandates that all Field Training Officers receive 8-hours of Crisis Intervention Training. This class is co-facilitated by Dr. Elijah Levy, a clinical psychologist who has over 25 years experience working with the mentally ill and Josef Levy, a retired police commander who has over 30 years of law enforcement experience.

Please see the attached flyer for our upcoming class being held at the Seal Beach Police Department on Wednesday, May 17, 2017. Embassy is also accepting reservations to deliver this class at your agency. If you are interested in having this course delivered at your agency for your FTO's or other personnel trained, please contact Josef Levy at (562) 577-5874 or at embassy@ymail.com.

Seats for this class will fill up fast, REGISTER TODAY!

Crisis Intervention and Behavioral Health Training Course

Dear Law Enforcement Professional,

Are you a Field Training Officer? Are you in compliance with Senate Bill 29, which Governor Brown signed into law on October 3, 2015? In brief, SB 29 mandates mental health training for Field Training Officers (FTO).

Field Training Officers (FTO) will complete 8 hours of crisis intervention behavioral health training (CIT) as follows:

- FTOs assigned or appointed before January 1, 2017 shall complete the training by June 30, 2017
- FTOs assigned or appointed after January 1, 2017 shall complete the training within 180 days of assignment or appointment

Today, police officers are becoming mental health first responders and are often inadequately trained for this task. Tragedies between the police and the mentally ill are occurring more frequent. One "bad incident" can cause devastation to families, the mental health community, police officers and police agencies. Sadly, we are also seeing police officers and police chiefs losing their careers over some of these high profile types of interactions, not to mention the civil penalties being awarded in these cases.

Embassy Consulting Services, LLC has trained over 6,000 law enforcement professionals on how to interact effectively with the mentally ill and is proud to announce it's newest 8-hour class titled "Crisis Intervention and Behavior Health Training". This course satisfies the requirements of Senate Bill 29 which mandates that all Field Training Officers receive 8-hours of Crisis Intervention Training. This class is co-facilitated by Dr. Elijah Levy, a clinical psychologist who has over 25 years experience working with the mentally ill and Josef Levy, a retired police commander who has over 30 years of law enforcement experience.

Please see the attached flyer for our upcoming class being held at the Simi Valley Police Department on Friday, May 19, 2017. Embassy is also accepting reservations to deliver this class at your agency. If you are interested in having this course delivered at your agency for your FTO's or other personnel trained, please contact Josef Levy at (562) 577-5874 or at embassyvcs@ymail.com.

- FTOs assigned or appointed after January 1, 2017 shall complete the training within 180 days of assignment or appointment

Today, police officers are becoming mental health first responders and are often inadequately trained for this task. Tragedies between the police and the mentally ill are occurring more frequent. One "bad incident" can cause devastation to families, the mental health community, police officers and police agencies. Sadly, we are also seeing police officers and police chiefs losing their careers over some of these high profile types of interactions, not to mention the civil penalties being awarded in these cases.

Embassy Consulting Services, LLC has trained over 6,000 law enforcement professionals on how to interact effectively with the mentally ill and is proud to announce it's newest 8-hour class titled "Crisis Intervention and Behavior Health Training". This course satisfies the requirements of Senate Bill 29 which mandates that all Field Training Officers receive 8-hours of Crisis Intervention Training. This class is co-facilitated by Dr. Elijah Levy, a clinical psychologist who has over 25 years experience working with the mentally ill and Josef Levy, a retired police commander who has over 30 years of law enforcement experience.

Please see the attached flyer for our upcoming class being held at the Seal Beach Police Department on Wednesday, April 26, 2017. Embassy is also accepting reservations to deliver this class at your agency. If you are interested in having this course delivered at your agency for your FTO's or other personnel trained, please contact Josef Levy at (562) 577-5874 or at embassyys@ymail.com.

Hi Sir,

I've given a copy to one of the TSA folks last week. I hope he will pass it on to the others and attend the class. I'll check in to see if it was passed on.

I've also passed it on to the Airport Security officers as well. I know a few of them will want to attend.

A world where US Law Enforcement are on the front lines, not only fighting crime, but fighting terrorism. Embassy Consulting Services, LLC is presenting their eight-hour class titled "The Evolution of Radical Islam". This valuable class is being facilitated by Officer Abe Ashabi, who is an Internationally known expert on Radical Islam. Officer Ashabi will share his expertise and passion to help participants understand the historic and current issues related to modern day Islam and Terrorism. Because of Officer Ashabi's "down to earth" style, participants will walk away educated and with a better understanding of how history is impacting modern day terrorism.

Crisis Intervention and Behavioral Health Training Course

Dear Law Enforcement Professional,

Are you a Field Training Officer? Are you in compliance with Senate Bill 29, which Governor Brown signed into law on October 3, 2015? In brief, SB 29 mandates mental health training for Field Training Officers (FTO).

Field Training Officers (FTO) will complete 8 hours of crisis intervention behavioral health training (CIT) as follows:

- FTOs assigned or appointed before January 1, 2017 shall complete the training by June 30, 2017
- FTOs assigned or appointed after January 1, 2017 shall complete the training within 180 days of assignment or appointment

Today, police officers are becoming mental health first responders and are often inadequately trained for this task. Tragedies between the police and the mentally ill are occurring more frequent. One "bad incident" can cause devastation to families, the mental health community, police officers and police agencies. Sadly, we are also seeing police officers and police chiefs losing their careers over some of these high profile types of interactions, not to mention the civil penalties being awarded in these cases.

Embassy Consulting Services, LLC has trained over 6,000 law enforcement professionals on how to interact effectively with the mentally ill and is proud to announce it's newest 8-hour class titled "Crisis Intervention and Behavior Health Training". This course satisfies the requirements of Senate Bill 29 which mandates that all Field Training Officers receive 8-hours of Crisis Intervention Training. This class is co-facilitated by Dr. Elijah Levy, a clinical psychologist who has over 25 years experience working with the mentally ill and Josef Levy, a retired police commander who has over 30 years of law enforcement experience.

Please see the attached flyer for our upcoming class being held at the Seal Beach Police Department on Wednesday, May 17, 2017. Embassy is also accepting reservations to deliver this class at your agency. If you are interested in having this course delivered at your agency for your FTO's or other personnel trained, please contact Josef Levy at (562) 577-5874 or at embassy@ymail.com.

Seats for this class will fill up fast, REGISTER TODAY!

Crisis Intervention and Behavioral Health Training Course

Dear Law Enforcement Professional,

Are you a Field Training Officer? Are you in compliance with Senate Bill 29, which Governor Brown signed into law on October 3, 2015? In brief, SB 29 mandates mental health training for Field Training Officers (FTO).

Field Training Officers (FTO) will complete 8 hours of crisis intervention behavioral health training (CIT) as follows:

- FTOs assigned or appointed before January 1, 2017 shall complete the training by June 30, 2017
- FTOs assigned or appointed after January 1, 2017 shall complete the training within 180 days of assignment or appointment

Today, police officers are becoming mental health first responders and are often inadequately trained for this task. Tragedies between the police and the mentally ill are occurring more frequent. One "bad incident" can cause devastation to families, the mental health community, police officers and police agencies. Sadly, we are also seeing police officers and police chiefs losing their careers over some of these high profile types of interactions, not to mention the civil penalties being awarded in these cases.

Embassy Consulting Services, LLC has trained over 6,000 law enforcement professionals on how to interact effectively with the mentally ill and is proud to announce it's newest 8-hour class titled "Crisis Intervention and Behavior Health Training". This course satisfies the requirements of Senate Bill 29 which mandates that all Field Training Officers receive 8-hours of Crisis Intervention Training. This class is co-facilitated by Dr. Elijah Levy, a clinical psychologist who has over 25 years experience working with the mentally ill and Josef Levy, a retired police commander who has over 30 years of law enforcement experience.

Please see the attached flyer for our upcoming class being held at the Seal Beach Police Department on Wednesday, May 17, 2017. Embassy is also accepting reservations to deliver this class at your agency. If you are interested in having this course delivered at your agency for your FTO's or other personnel trained, please contact Josef Levy at (562) 577-5874 or at embassy@ymail.com.

Crisis Intervention and Behavioral Health Training Course

Dear Law Enforcement Professional,

Are you a Field Training Officer? Are you in compliance with Senate Bill 29, which Governor Brown signed into law on October 3, 2015? In brief, SB 29 mandates mental health training for Field Training Officers (FTO).

Field Training Officers (FTO) will complete 8 hours of crisis intervention behavioral health training (CIT) as follows:

- FTOs assigned or appointed before January 1, 2017 shall complete the training by June 30, 2017
- FTOs assigned or appointed after January 1, 2017 shall complete the training within 180 days of assignment or appointment

Today, police officers are becoming mental health first responders and are often inadequately trained for this task. Tragedies between the police and the mentally ill are occurring more frequent. One "bad incident" can cause devastation to families, the mental health community, police officers and police agencies. Sadly, we are also seeing police officers and police chiefs losing their careers over some of these high profile types of interactions, not to mention the civil penalties being awarded in these cases.

Embassy Consulting Services, LLC has trained over 6,000 law enforcement professionals on how to interact effectively with the mentally ill and is proud to announce it's newest 8-hour class titled "Crisis Intervention and Behavior Health Training". This course satisfies the requirements of Senate Bill 29 which mandates that all Field Training Officers receive 8-hours of Crisis Intervention Training. This class is co-facilitated by Dr. Elijah Levy, a clinical psychologist who has over 25 years experience working with the mentally ill and Josef Levy, a retired police commander who has over 30 years of law enforcement experience.

Please see the attached flyer for our upcoming class being held at the Seal Beach Police Department on Monday, March 13, 2017. Embassy is also accepting reservations to deliver this class at your agency. If you are interested in having this course delivered at your agency for your FTO's or other personnel trained, please contact Josef Levy at (562) 577-5874 or at embassyys@ymail.com.

Crisis Intervention and Behavioral Health Training Course

Dear Law Enforcement Professional,

Are you a Field Training Officer? Are you in compliance with Senate Bill 29, which Governor Brown signed into law on October 3, 2015? In brief, SB 29 mandates mental health training for Field Training Officers (FTO).

Field Training Officers (FTO) will complete 8 hours of crisis intervention behavioral health training (CIT) as follows:

- FTOs assigned or appointed before January 1, 2017 shall complete the training by June 30, 2017
- FTOs assigned or appointed after January 1, 2017 shall complete the training within 180 days of assignment or appointment

Today, police officers are becoming mental health first responders and are often inadequately trained for this task. Tragedies between the police and the mentally ill are occurring more frequent. One "bad incident" can cause devastation to families, the mental health community, police officers and police agencies. Sadly, we are also seeing police officers and police chiefs losing their careers over some of these high profile types of interactions, not to mention the civil penalties being awarded in these cases.

Embassy Consulting Services, LLC has trained over 6,000 law enforcement professionals on how to interact effectively with the mentally ill and is proud to announce it's newest 8-hour class titled "Crisis Intervention and Behavior Health Training". This course satisfies the requirements of Senate Bill 29 which mandates that all Field Training Officers receive 8-hours of Crisis Intervention Training. This class is co-facilitated by Dr. Elijah Levy, a clinical psychologist who has over 25 years experience working with the mentally ill and Josef Levy, a retired police commander who has over 30 years of law enforcement experience.

Please see the attached flyer for our upcoming class being held at the Seal Beach Police Department on Monday, March 13, 2017. Embassy is also accepting reservations to deliver this class at your agency. If you are interested in having this course delivered at your agency for your FTO's or other personnel trained, please contact Josef Levy at (562) 577-5874 or at embassyecs@ymail.com.

Crisis Intervention and Behavioral Health Training Course

Dear Law Enforcement Professional,

Are you a Field Training Officer? Are you in compliance with Senate Bill 29, which Governor Brown signed into law on October 3, 2015? In brief, SB 29 mandates mental health training for Field Training Officers (FTO).

Field Training Officers (FTO) will complete 8 hours of crisis intervention behavioral health training (CIT) as follows:

- FTOs assigned or appointed before January 1, 2017 shall complete the training by June 30, 2017
- FTOs assigned or appointed after January 1, 2017 shall complete the training within 180 days of assignment or appointment

Today, police officers are becoming mental health first responders and are often inadequately trained for this task. Tragedies between the police and the mentally ill are occurring more frequent. One "bad incident" can cause devastation to families, the mental health community, police officers and police agencies. Sadly, we are also seeing police officers and police chiefs losing their careers over some of these high profile types of interactions, not to mention the civil penalties being awarded in these cases.

Embassy Consulting Services, LLC has trained over 6,000 law enforcement professionals on how to interact effectively with the mentally ill and is proud to announce it's newest 8-hour class titled "Crisis Intervention and Behavior Health Training". This course satisfies the requirements of Senate Bill 29 which mandates that all Field Training Officers receive 8-hours of Crisis Intervention Training. This class is co-facilitated by Dr. Elijah Levy, a clinical psychologist who has over 25 years experience working with the mentally ill and Josef Levy, a retired police commander who has over 30 years of law enforcement experience.

Please see the attached flyer for our upcoming class being held at the Seal Beach Police Department on Monday, March 13, 2017. Embassy is also accepting reservations to deliver this class at your agency. If you are interested in having this course delivered at your agency for your FTO's or other personnel trained, please contact Josef Levy at (562) 577-5874 or at embassyecs@ymail.com.
