CRISIS INTERVENTION & BEHAVIORAL HEALTH TRAINING

IN PARTNERSHIP WITH THE SEAL BEACH POLICE DEPARTMENT

OVERVIEW

This Training satisfies Senate Bill 29 (SB29) requiring all Field Training Officers (FTO's) to have at least 8 hours of crisis intervention behavioral health training.

Law enforcement officers are frequently called upon to manage incidents involving people with mental illness. This interactive training will cover mental illness, stigma, substance use disorders, developmental disabilities and more. The class will also feature a guest speaker, someone living with a mental illness who will share his experiences of living with a mental illness.

PRESENTERS

Dr. Elijah Levy, Ph.D., Clinical Psychologist

Dr. Levy is a Clinical Psychologist with almost three decades of experience working with the mentally ill population.

Commander Josef Levy, Long Beach Police Department (ret)

Josef Levy has over 30 years of law enforcement experience and is a seasoned instructor who has trained law enforcement professionals on the Local, National and International level.

To: WATCH REPORT
From: Alex Avila, Commander, Training Division
Subject: TRAINING OPPORTUNITIES

The Final Report of the President's Task Force on 21st Century Policing (http://www.cops.usdoj.gov/pdf/taskforce/taskforce_finalreport.pdf) was released in May of 2015. The report offers recommendations on how policing practices can promote effective crime reduction while building public trust. The recommendations and associated action items are organized in six main topics labeled in the report as "pillars." Pillar 5 addresses law enforcement training and states that more and better training is needed in specific areas in order to effectively handle contemporary law enforcement challenges.

As a result, in part, of the Pillar 5 findings, city funding has been earmarked this fiscal year to enhance officer training in the following areas:

- Community Policing and Problem Solving
- Interpersonal and Communication Skills
- Bias Awareness
- Scenario Based, Situational Decision Making
- Crisis Intervention
- Mental Health

Employees interested in training in these areas are strongly encouraged to apply for local courses that do not require an overnight stay. Training requests for courses in these topics should be submitted utilizing existing departmental training request procedures, along with a copy of this Watch Report. Please keep the Index Code box on the 3-page training request form blank.

Callback overtime is authorized to meet minimum staffing requirements associated with the absence of an officer attending training in one of the above topics. Officers working a callback shall use their regular Division index code and User Code "PDTR01."

Please direct any questions to Sergeant Ryan Lebaron at extension 85965.

THE EVOLUTION OF RADICAL ISLAM

IN PARTNERSHIP WITH THE TUSTIN POLICE DEPARTMENT

OVERVIEW

On April 15, 2013, two homemade bombs detonated near the finish line of the annual Boston Marathon, killing three people and injuring several hundred others. The suspects, who were brothers, killed an MIT Police Officer, kidnapped a man in his car and had a shootout with the police in nearby Watertown, MA.

During questioning, one suspect stated that he and his brother were motivated by extremist Islamist beliefs and the wars in Iraq and Afghanistan. They also said they intended to travel to New York to bomb Times Square. This event and others are making law enforcement ask themselves if this is the new normal. This powerful class will educate you about the history and evolution of Radical Islam and the threat they pose to law enforcement.

PRESENTER

Officer Abe Ashabi

Officer Ashabi is an internationally known expert on Radical Islam and has spent time in Afghanistan assisting U.S. Coalition Forces with Counter I.E.D efforts.
